LONDON, April 13, 1878.-A Reuter telegram from St. Petersburg says
"The summary published by the London Central Press yesterday of the cir cular accompany Prince Gortschakoff' reply to Lord Salisbury is apocrypha. In the house of commons Gladstone, who voted with the minority was loudly hooted by the Conservatives, and there was a scene of great excitement.

There has been less excitement at Portsmouth dock yard this week. The work in hand is fast assuming its ordinary routine character, over time has been generally stopped, very little remains to be done in the way of warlike preparations. On Monday it became known that a letter had been forwarded from the admiralty to Portsmouth, asking how long it would take to get ready sea, the flotilla of iron gunboats built for service in the Baltic during the last Russian war, and for the most part since lying on slips at Haslar. These are formidable little vessels of two hundred and fifty-four tons displacement with twin screws, and carrying each an 18 ton gun in the bower. Preparations were actually begun to fit them with magazines, when further orders were ceived antermanding the first, At present therefore, nothing is being done

o bring them forward. At St. Petersburg the opinion regarding Gortschakoff's circular is much divided. Some consider it a complete political programme, full of sound comon sense, and worthy of a great power; others regard it as empty and colorless, and nothing but a formal refuta-tion of Lord Salisbury's accusations. some think it Russia's last word; others believe it is the introduction to negotiations on a new ground. It has greatly displeased those who wish the government to nail their colors to the mast, and risk all rather than to make the slightest concession.

The opinion at Berlin continues skeptical about the success of the negotia

This seems to indicate that no agreement has yet been reached, and that Germany is doubtful about the sincerity of the desire for our understanding on one part or the other.

Bratiano bringe from Berlin are not very encouraging The conviction there is that the Czar is bent on having Bessarabia back, and that he will take it, and that the best thing the Ronmanians can do is to make the best possible terms about the cempensation they are to receive.

According to the news from Bucharest the popular mind in Roumania seems scarcely prepared to accept such a device, whatever may be the dispostion of the ministers.

The situation at Constantinople is still regarded as dangerous to peace notwithstanding the protestations of the Porte, there are intrigues going on among the Pashas, and the discretion of the Russian commander and of Mr Layard are doubted. Mehemet Ali, and Mowkhtar, Osman Reouf, and Said Pasha and several other Turkish Generals dined with Mr Layard yesterday. The Greeks and Bulgarians in Roumania and Therace are quarelling about the possession of the Greek churches, appealing to the Russians and the Turks for support. The atmosphere of Constantinople is believed to be daily becoming more inflammable.

Forty-Fifth Congress. WASHINETON, April 13 .- It has transpired that the Finance Committee of the Senate, voted on four important propositions; first, with only two disenting votes, that after the first of July, legal tenders should be receivable for customs; second, that legal tenders shall be receivable at par for four pe cent bonds; third, that the present out standing legal tenders shall be indestructible; and fourth, repealing the law which authorizes the retirement of the legal tenders in the proportion of eighty per cent, to the national bank notes is sued. The reasons for recognizing the Diaz government are that it has shown a disposition to arrange all matters in dispute between the two governments, and given evidence of its earnestness in that lirection, having, among other things, sent Federal troops to the frontier t preserve peace, thus supplementing the inefficient militia. Consequently no raids have occurred on the Rio Grande for the last three months, certainly none of a serious character; besides the Mexican government has promptly paid, as they became due, two instalments of the Mexican indemnity, amounting to $600,000, and recently the Mexican government checked an attempt at Matamoras, to levy forced loans on American citizens. There has been no other such attempts for some months past, and every precaution will be taken to prevent them in the future. WAKE FOREST COLLEGE. The State Geologist Delivers a Course of Lectures.

Correspondence of the News.) WAKE FOREST, April 13, 1878. The past week has been a very pleasnt one to the students of our c Professor W. C. Kerr, State Geologist, on the invitation of President Wingate delivered before the students four very interesting, able, and instructive lectures on the geology of North Carolina. His lectures abounded in many interesting facts concerning the material interest and advantages of our State, and I think much good was accomplished among the students, as an acquaintance with those facts tends to a development of State pride. Did ed-ucated and talented young men know more of their own State we would not find so many adorning the pulpits, have forums and counters of other lands. I think that it would be well if our public officers would lecture oftener to the students of the University and Colleges, as great good would be accomplished. If Col. Polk would call by occasionally and lecture on the agricultural interest, and Pro. Scarrough on the interest of Public schools, a zeal would be implanted in the students and good results accrue.

We hope Prof. Kerr's visit to our Institution was as pleasant to him as it was interesting and instructive to us.

Senator Bruce Rebukes His White Brother, Burnside,

(From our special Correspondent) WASHINGTON, April 12, 1878. In the House on yesterday, Mr. Robbins presented the petition of citizens of Yadkin county against the abolition of the Western Judicial District of North Carolina.

Mr. Steele presented the petition of Burwell and Springs, and other mer-chants and dealers in sugar, that the duty on sugar be made at so much per pound, without regard to color or quality.
Mr. Waddell reported the bill to establish post-routes in the several States therein named, which was duly passed. The main subject discussed in the House,—and discussed in a manner to provoke sundry sharp tilts-at-arms, was the bill making appropriations for the payment of invalid and other pensions of the United States, for the year ending June 30, 1879. The principal interest and debate centred about the clause of the bill abolishing pension agencies,—the object being to dispense with these "middle-men," make claims directly payable at the United States Treasury, and thereby save to the gov-ernment the salaries paid these agents, and to the pensioner the fee he has to pay them for certificates. Mr. Sparks, Dem.) of Illinois, (an excellent and able gentleman,) made a vehement speech in favor of the clause, eliciting an acrid reply from Hanna, of Indiana, Republican. Either gentleman is gifted with a burly person and a Boanugean voice, each was excited, and the atmos-phere of the House was resonant with vocal artillery. Here was one "shot" that told on the penetrable armor of the

Hoosier statesman:
"Mr. SPARES. I wish to ask the genleman a question. The CHAIRMAN. The gentleman's ime is out.

the pension agent at Indianapolis.
Mr. HANNA. I will answer that. Mr. SPARKS. Do. Mr. HANNA. I will say that my law partner fought in the war from first to last; he fought with Hooker above the clouds; he fought for the Union when Mr. SPARKS. I want it distinctly understood that the law partner of the gentleman is the pension agent at Indianapolis; and I can prove it, and "that's that's the matter with Hannah!"

[Laughter and applause.]
The clause abolishing the agencies was finally stricken out, when Rice, (Dem.) of Ohio, moved an amendment to the bill that, "after July 1, 1878, the office of pension agent shall be filled by wounded or disabled Union soldiers, which passed with a whoop and a hur-rah. These offices, which, in many instances, are very profitable, are now almost universally filled by active Radical politicians who never set other than a paper squadron in the field. The amendment. Now all this, of course. is simply political clap-trap, but it is the Shields on the retired list, and reasonably sure that this Rice amendment will be stricken out of the pension bill,-and so this sham and crocodile regard for the soldiers, on the part of "the great patriotic and loyal party," will be exposed in all its dis-gusting and contemptible hypocrisy.

In the Senate, Senator Dennis, of Maryland, presented the Montgomery Blair resolutions of the Legislature of that State, in relation to the Electoral Commission. In doing so, he expressed his deprecation of the re-opening of the Presidential question. In this most of our people will agree with him; but if ophomorical speech than the Senator would deserve the ferule. If poor Fitzhugh was expelled from the Doorkeepership for writing a silly letter, the mountain breezes or the rushing of the mad storm from behind some towering peak, ever disturbs the tranquility of the surroundings; to say that it has been remarkably quiet is to say that noth ing has transpired to break the screnity of the opening spring. Even March, usually lion like, and blustery, has withheld its angry gusts and sent us in their stead the breezes that are wont to Mr. SPARKS. I simply want to ask delay their coming until they can kiss the gentleman whether his law partner the May blossoms on the lawn.

THE PARMERS AT WORK. The farmers seem busy now making up for the time lost during the winter rains, and even during our court which met the fourth Monday in March, no more of them attended than were compelled to by business of some sort or for ten days, and several important cases were dispensed with. The criminal docket was unusually small, and no cases of importance upon it. Only two persons were committed to prison, both colored, one to the State penitentiary and one to the county jail. The latter was let out to farm in accordance with the late statute to that effect.

FARMING OUT CONVICTS. The provision seems to meet with the approval of the people since it saves the county much expense in feeding prisoners, and is much better for the risoners. Generally such characters as are committed to our prisons are of idle and loafing habits, and a strict con-tinement only renders them languid and sel to eat without earning it by the LAW AND ORDER, PREVAILING. The reports of our grand jury promise but little business upon the State docket at the fall term of this court. Such a state of things it seems betokens at least Doorkeeper! Now it is pretty certain that a Republican Senate will refuse to people, or a zealous execution of the law people, or a zealous execution of the law both of which are commendable, and it is an assertion that none will deny, that the South sands in eminent need of moral improvement.

> IMPROVED CONDITION OF THINGS. Another evidence of the improvement of affairs is the fact that the grade of our county officials has improved so much since the gloomy days of seventy one, two and three, and it is to be hoped that the people will continue to us their efforts in this direction. THE JOHNSON-STANLY REMINISCENCE. My old friend—your accomplished correspondent, "S. Reverdy Johnson did not lose his eye by a shot from his own pistol. Mr. Stanly fired at a tree at short range, the bullet glanced and struck his friend Mr. Johnson, who was standing nearly at a right angle from the line of fire. The occurrence was always a source of great regret to Mr. Stanly, and he often ailuded to it among his friends, as one of the most unfortunate incidents of his Particulars of the Death of Flannagan --- Mouroe Court--Mysterious Disappearance---Crop Prospects.

(Correspondence of the NEWS.)

WADESBORO, April 12, 1878. Yesterday morning as a construction Yesterday morning as a construction train on the Carolina Central R. R. was passing out of a deep and curving out, a short distance below the depot at Monroe, a man was discovered crawling along the trestle which is just at the mouth of the cut. When first seen by the engineer the train was too near him erushing and mangling one leg from the middle of the thigh nearly to the ankle. He was thrown off the track, but hung by the broken limb. He was carried to the depot at Monroe and there identified as one Flannagan, an Irish dentined as one Franciagan, an Irisan school-teacher. He was in the habit of drinking, and it is supposed from his crawling on the trestle, and not trying to get out of the way of the train, that e was intoxicated on this occasion. The poor fellow was still alive when I reached the depot, a few minutes be-fore the down train arrived, but as that moved out from the depot I heard he was dead. He said that he had not a single relative in this country.

Union Court opened on Monday, Judge Moore on the bench. Of course he had a good deal to say about negro he had a good deal to say about negro jurors. I saw three negroes on the jury who seemed to be very far from enjoy-ing the "jury privilege." There is but one capital case for trial, that of S. M. Alexander, for the murder of Dunn, who was shot down in his yard one night, over a year ago, for what purpose no one knows. He was not robbed, and was not supposed to have an enemy in

Receiver for Wilmington, Columbia and Augusta Rail-Road. Dathmore, on Friday, Judge Bond appointed Hon. R. R. Bridgers, Receiver of the Wilmington, Columbia and Augusta Railroad. The application was by mortgage bondholders representing three millions nine hundred thousand dollars. Hon. Wm. A. Wright, Esq., the oldest Railroad man in the State, forty-four consecutive years a director in the Wilmington and Weldon, appeared as counsel for the Company. The Receiver was required to give bond in the sum of two hundred thousand dollars.

This result was not unexpected in Railroad circles. The conditions have been ripening for it for some months. In January last, the Wilmington-Columbia defaulted the interest on its mortgage bonds. The bond-holders lately saw proper to call a conference in Baltimore, to consider of a Receiver, and the conference lasted nearly a week, with the result that, yesterday the Road passed into the hands of the Receiver appointed the day before.

This Railroad was lessee of the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad, paying seven per cent on par value of stock. This lease money was defaulted on the fifteenth of January last, and by the terms of the lease the Wilmington and Weldon reverts to its stockholders on ing the school teachers of the State. Monday next, the 15th inst.

Matters of very great importance are here involved, and large interests of some of our citizens, in Wilmington especially, are hereby put in jeopardy. That there has been scheming and management to "freeze out" the local and small stockholders in both the Wilmington and Weldon, and Columbia and Augusta Roads there can scarcely be a doubt. That combinations are culminating to own and control all the Railroad property in North Carolina by keen manipulators outside of the State has been patent for some time. That the enterprising and public spirited business men of Wilmington have been duped and driven to the wall, is too certain for further suppression of indignation.

North Carolina Summer Resorts.

A friend in Asheville writes that more letters of inquiry are being received there than at any previous time, and the indications point to a larger number of Summer visitors than have ever before been at Asheville during a single season.

Western North Carolina is a natural mountain Summer resort, possessing the finest mountain climate, and preidea was grand, and its execution as noble. There should not be failure scenery in the world; and it has begun to attract more universal and favorable attention than any other mountain portion of the United States. It will have been observed that the Governor who, by virtue of his office, is President of the State Board of Education, has been most diligent in his efforts to promote the educational interests of the people over whom he presides, and that in this behalf he has labored incessantly and impartially for the benefit of all conditions, and both races. The President of the Univer sity abandoned a lucrative law practice and a city home, and accepted an insignificant salary to devote his whole time and talents to the great cause of public education. And to realize the earliest and fullest fruits of their labors, these gentlemen, and those working with them, organized this Normal School to make more efficient those upon whom devolves the duty of edu-

The time is now ended, and the lists of delinquents will be handed to the Sheriff.

Attractive.

Particular attention is called to the advertisement of Messrs. W. H. & R. S. Tucker. They offer an unusually large stock of goods of all the best styles and patterns. In their line of gentlemen's furnishing goods, as mentioned, the exhibit made is superb, and the articles are furnished at such prices as suit the times. The firm maintains its old reputation for reliability and the quality of the goods sold over its counters. Fish Commissioneers.

The Telephone. Things telephonic are now all the rage. The Telegraph and Express offices are thronged with visitors, who listen eagerly to the queer little instruments One of the best conversers is Mr. Wm Price, he of the manly form and magnificent beard, who is the presiding genius at one end of the line. Mr. Starke's many courtesies are appreciated by his State Guard Gossip.

The officers of the Third Battalio of the North Carolina State Guard held a meeting at Statesville Wednesday, and elected Major W. A. Graham, of Lincolnton, Major of the battlion. Several representatives of the military companies of Mecklenburg county, held a meeting day before yesterday to take some action in reference to the 20th of May. It was resolved that the companies appear on that day and assist he fire companies or any other organizations in a parade, or in any other manner that would not involve expense. A resolution was also adopted to the effect that any one of the companies might invite any other military organization to the city to assist in the celeoration of the day, but that such invited companies would be considered the guest of the company issuing the invitation, which would be expected to bear all the expenses.

Spring Flowers.

One of those things that ever gladdens the eye, and which to any one with the slightest appreciation of nature's beauties is always acceptable, is a bouquet of lowers. These in their natural state, or carlessly arranged, are attractive, but when art and taste enter into the preparation of a bouquet, then indeed are they surpassingly beautiful. Among the horticulturists of our State, there is no one better known as a cultivator of choice flowers than Prof. C. B. Fairchild, of our city. This gentleman's taste in the matter of selection and arrangement is unequaled, and a sight of one of his bouquets is indeed a treat to the eye.

We acknowledge the receipt of one of of rare pansies and pinks, while innumerable other flowers add their grace and fragrance.

Monument for General Lee. The Lee Memorial Association, incorporated in 1871, for the purpose of erecting an equestrian statue of General Robert E. Lee in Richmond, has issued an appeal to the people of the South to aid in the neble undertaking. Each State contributing will be entitled, through commissioners appointed by its Governor, to a voice in the selection of the design and the artist. The plan proposed is to canvass every honse in every town on the 19th day of January next and solicit generous contributions. We understand that Mrs. C. W. Mc-Lean will take charge of the matter in New Berne, and will in the fall give entertainments of some kind for the purpose of raising funds.

The Most Precious of Gifts. The Most Precious of Gifts.

Health is undeniably a more precious gift than riches, honor or power. Who would exchange it for these, the chief objects of human ambition? It is obviously the part of wisdom to employ means for the preservation of health and the prolongation of life which time and experience have proved to be reliable. Many of the dangers by which heatth is threatened may be nullified by the use of that most irresistible of correctives and tonics Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which by increasing vital power and rendering the physical functions regular and active, keeps the system in good working order and protects it against disease. For constipation, dyspepsia, liver complaint, nervousness, kidney and rheumatic aliments, it is invaluable, and it affords a sure defence against malarial fevers, besides removing every trace of such disease from the system. Haif a wine-glassful taken before meals improves the appetite and insures complete digestion and assimilation.
